Project Two

---

Project One: Context

---

- For this project we are asking you to create a more sophisticated site – which must be responsive
- It must contain at least 10 pages.
- You may use your existing site content – but many of you may need to supplement it with additional material
- You will be assessed on both visual, technical (e.g., features), and organizational (e.g., file naming scheme) aspects.
- Labs 10 & 11 will demonstrate interesting techniques that you will be using, particularly for the Responsive requirement.
- You will be expected to publish the site to a web server (surge.sh)

Project One: Content & Styles

- Content:
  - A minimum of 10 separate pages
  - An appropriate navigation mechanism
  - A pleasing multi-column layout, including header and footer sections
  - Suitable and appropriate imagery
  - Resopnsive

Project One: General Requirements

---

- Consistency across pages
- Clear and consistent file naming scheme
- Clear and consistent site structure (e.g., folders)
- Clear and consistent code nesting and indentation
- Appropriate Semantic Elements Expected
- Use HTML tags introduced during the class + elements you think make sense in the context of the site you are developing
- Multi-columns layout
- Use a combination of text and images, where appropriate
- Use of classes and ID + suitable HTML tags

Project One: Submission

---

- All files included in your website as a single zipped archive + a link to the deployed version
- The project will be observed Firefox Developer Edition – with a variety of screen profiles
- The main site entry point is to be 'index.html'.
- The assignment needs to be submitted via Moodle using the dedicated submission activity in moodle
- This should include the link to the public
- Deadline: December 13<sup>h</sup>
